

Georgia Department of Behavioral Health & Developmental Disabilities

Frank W. Berry, Commissioner

Office of Adult Mental Health

Two Peachtree Street, NW \cdot 23rd Floor \cdot Atlanta, Georgia 30303 \cdot (404) 232-1644

Supported Employment Fidelity Review Report

Provider: Community Friendship Inc.

Date(s) of Review: Nov. 5-6, 2013

Region: 3

SUPPORTED EMPLOYMENT FIDELITY SCALE

STAFFING
1. Caseload size	Rating
Employment specialists have individual employment caseloads. The maximum caseload for any full-	5 time employment specialist is 20 or fewer.
2. Employment services staff	Rating
Employment specialists provide only employment services.	5
3. Vocational generalists	Rating
Each employment specialist carries out all phases of employment service, including intake, engagement,	5 assessment, job placement, job coaching, and follow-along supports before step down to less intensive employment support from another MH practitioner.
ORGANIZATION
1. Integration of rehabilitation with mental health through team assignment	Rating
Employment specialists are part of up to 2 mental health treatment teams from which at least 90% of	2
the employment specialist's caseload is comprised.
2. Integration of rehabilitation with mental health through frequent team member contact	Rating
 ES attends weekly MH treatment team meetings. 	3
 ES participates actively in treatment team meetings with shared decision-making.
 Employment services documentation (i.e., vocational assessment/profile, employment plan, progress note) is integrated into consumer's MH treatment record.
 ES's office is located in close proximity to (or shared with) his/her MH treatment team members.
 ES helps the team think about employment for people who haven't yet been referred to supported employment services.
3. Collaboration between Employment Specialists and Vocational Rehabilitation Counselors	Rating
The employment specialist and VR counselors have frequent contact for the purpose of discussing	3 shared consumers and identifying potential referrals.
4. Vocational unit	Rating
At least 2 full-time employment specialists and a team leader comprise the employment unit. They	5 have weekly client-based group supervision following the supported employment model in which strategies are identified and job leads are shared. They provide coverage for each other's caseload when needed.
5. Role of employment supervisor	Rating
Supported employment unit is led by a supported employment team leader. Employment specialists'	5 skills are developed and improved through outcome-based supervision. One full-time supervisor is responsible for no more than 10 employment specialists. The supervisor does not have other supervisory responsibilities. (Program leaders supervising fewer than 10 employment specialists may spend a percentage of time on other supervisor activities on a prorated basis.) Supervisor conducts weekly supported employment supervision designed to review consumer situations and identify new strategies and ideas to help consumers in their work Supervisor communicates with mental health treatment team leaders to ensure that services are integrated, to problem solve programmatic issues and to be a champion for the value of work. Attends a meeting for each mental health treatment team on a quarterly basis. Supervisor accompanies employment specialists who are new or having difficulty with job development, in the field monthly to improve skills by observing, modeling and giving feedback on skills, e.g., meeting employers for job development. Supervisor reviews current consumer outcomes with employment specialists and sets goals to improve program performance at least quarterly. 6. Zero exclusion criteria Rating All consumers interested in working have access to supported employment services regardless of job 5 readiness factors, substance abuse, symptoms, history of violent behavior, cognition impairments, treatment non-adherence, and personal presentation. These apply during supported employment services, too. Employment specialists offer to help with another job when one has ended regardless of the reason that the job ended or the number of jobs held. If VR has screening criteria, the mental health agency does not use them to exclude anybody. Consumers are not screened out formally or informally. 7. Agency focus on competitive employment Rating Agency promotes competitive work through multiple strategies. 5 Agency intake includes questions about interest in employment. Agency includes questions about interest in employment on all annual (or semi-annual) assessment or treatment plan reviews. o Agency displays written postings (e.g., brochures, bulletin boards, posters) about working and supported employment services, in lobby and other waiting areas. Agency supports ways for consumers to share work stories with other consumers and staff (e.g., agency wide employment recognition events, in-service training, peer support groups, agency newsletter articles, invited speakers at consumer treatment groups, etc.) at least twice a year. Agency measures rate of competitive employment on at least a quarterly basis and shares outcomes with agency leadership and staff. 8. Executive team support for supported employment Rating Agency executive team members assist with supported employment implementation and sustainability. Executive Director and Clinical Director demonstrate knowledge regarding the principals of evidence-based supported employment. Agency QA process includes an explicit review of the SE program, or components of the program, at least every 6 months through the use of the Supported Employment Fidelity Scale, or until achieving high fidelity, and at least yearly thereafter. Agency QA process uses the results of the fidelity assessment to improve SE implementation and sustainability. At least one member of the executive team actively participates in SE leadership team (steering committee) meetings that occur at least every six months for high fidelity programs and at least quarterly for programs that have not yet achieved high fidelity. Steering committee is defined as a diverse group of stakeholders charged with reviewing fidelity, program implementation, and the service delivery system. Committee develops written action plans aimed at developing or sustaining high fidelity services.

- The agency CEO/Executive Director communicates how SE services support the mission of the agency and articulates clear and specific goals for SE and/or competitive employment to all staff during the first six months and at least yearly annually (i.e., SE Kickoff, all-agency meetings, agency newsletters, etc.). This item is not delegated to another administrator.
- The SE program leader shares information about EBP barrier and facilitators with the executive team (including the CEO) at least twice each year. The executive team helps the program leader identify and implement solutions to barriers.

SERVICES

Il consumers are offered assistance in obtaining comprehensive, individualized work incentives lanning before starting a new job and assistance accessing work incentives planning thereafter when haking decisions about changes in work hours and pay. Work incentives planning includes SSA enefits, medical benefits, medication subsidies, housing subsidies, food stamps, spouse and dependent nildren benefits, past job retirement benefits and any other source of income. Consumers are rovided information and assistance about reporting earnings to SSA, housing programs, VA programs, tc., depending on the person's benefits. Disclosure Molyment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their noices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a isability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons.) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from one of the proper of the	SERVICES
lanning before starting a new job and assistance accessing work incentives planning thereafter when laking decisions about changes in work hours and pay. Work incentives' planning includes SSA enefits, medical benefits, medication subsidies, housing subsidies, food stamps, spouse and dependent includes information and assistance about reporting earnings to SSA, housing programs, VA programs, tc., depending on the person's benefits. Disclosure Imployment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their noices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a sisability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from from ork experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer or the employment freasonable	1. Work incentives planning	Rating naking decisions about changes in work hours and pay. Work incentives' planning includes SSA enefits, medical benefits, medication subsidies, housing subsidies, food stamps, spouse and dependent hildren benefits, past job retirement benefits and any other source of income. Consumers are rovided information and assistance about reporting earnings to SSA, housing programs, VA programs, tc., depending on the person's benefits. Disclosure Ratir miployment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their noices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a sisability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Initial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from from freatonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, initial records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Ratir distilla employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment posterialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized j	All consumers are offered assistance in obtaining comprehensive, individualized work incentives	4
enefits, medical benefits, medication subsidies, housing subsidies, food stamps, spouse and dependent illdren benefits, past job retirement benefits and any other source of income. Consumers are rovided information and assistance about reporting earnings to SSA, housing programs, VA programs, tc., depending on the person's benefits. Disclosure mployment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their noices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a isability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Total experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inicial records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Ratin displayment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment becialist	planning before starting a new job and assistance accessing work incentives planning thereafter when nildren benefits, past job retirement benefits and any other source of income. Consumers are rovided information and assistance about reporting earnings to SSA, housing programs, VA programs, tc., depending on the person's benefits. Disclosure Imployment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their noices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a isability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment itial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from rork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration from solving using environmental assessments and consideration from solving using environmental assessments and consideration from the word of the consumer of the employment secialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Ratir displayment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' prefer	making decisions about changes in work hours and pay. Work incentives' planning includes SSA
Ratir rovided information and assistance about reporting earnings to SSA, housing programs, VA programs, tc., depending on the person's benefits. Disclosure Imployment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their roices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a isability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment ititial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from fork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Ratir imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational sessesm	benefits, medical benefits, medication subsidies, housing subsidies, food stamps, spouse and dependent
Ratir moloyment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their noices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a isability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment itial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from fork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Ratir itial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment pecialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with informatio	children benefits, past job retirement benefits and any other source of income. Consumers are
Disclosure mployment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their roices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a isability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment ititial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from the vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratin individualized job search mployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational sessesment/profile form an	provided information and assistance about reporting earnings to SSA, housing programs, VA programs, mployment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their noices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a isability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists' role communicating with the employer. Employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment indicated the consumers of the properties of the properties in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Alms at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Ratinguital shout a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Ratinguital profile form and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational sessessment/profile form and new job/educ	etc., depending on the person's benefits.
Description of the special state of the special state of the special stability. Description of the special state of the special stability at the work site in order to receive services. Description of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists of scours specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Description of the specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment intitial occational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from for experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration from experiences and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratin ditial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment problem of the proposed and updated with information from the vocational session of the proposed and updated with information from the vocational sessessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational sessessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences.	2. Disclosure	Rating isability. Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment indicated with information from lork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with each new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rational search for competitive job Rational search for competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational sessessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development-frequent employer contact Rational records are readily available). Job development-frequent employer contact	Employment specialists provide consumers with accurate information and assist with evaluating their	3
 Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists' role communicating with the employer. Employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Indial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from the vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Rapid search for competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development- frequent employer contact 	choices to make an informed decision regarding what is revealed to the employer about having a
the work site in order to receive services. Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment ork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information from the vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from the vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job cecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search mployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development-frequent employer contact Ratir	disability.
 Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employernt specialists of communicating with the employer. Employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratinguitial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment obecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational experiences. Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational experiences. Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational experiences. Individualized job search p	o Employment specialists do not require all consumers to disclose their psychiatric disability at and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site. Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Ititial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from rork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration from easonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rating the profile for competitive job Characteristic program entry. Individualized job search Individualized job search Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational experiences. Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational experiences. Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational experiences. Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational experiences.	the work site in order to receive services.
Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the employment specialists's role communicating with the employer. Employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment initial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from rork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with acch new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inicial records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Ratir elital employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment becialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search mployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development-frequent employer contact	o Employment specialists offer to discuss with consumers the possible costs and benefits (pros employment specialist's role communicating with the employer. Employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Ititial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from orok experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Initial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment specialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Individualized job search Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational sessessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Individualized form and new job/educational experiences.	and cons) of disclosure at the work site in advance of consumers disclosing at the work site.
Employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment itital vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from rork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inicial records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job initial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment objectialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search mployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development-frequent employer contact Ratir	Employment specialists describe how disclosure relates to requesting accommodations and the mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.) and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment itial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from ork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratin itial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment occilist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search mployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development- frequent employer contact	employment specialist's role communicating with the employer.
and offer examples of what could be said to employers. Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment itial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from ork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratin itial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment objectialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development-frequent employer contact Ratin	 Employment specialists discuss specific information to be disclosed (e.g., disclose receiving
o Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment itial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from ork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratin ditial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment pecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search mployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development-frequent employer contact Ratin	mental health treatment, or presence of a psychiatric disability, or difficulty with anxiety, etc.)
not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job). Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment ditial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from ork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratin ditial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment pecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Individualized job search Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational sesessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development-frequent employer contact Ratin Ratin Sources of information or the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational sesessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences.	and offer examples of what could be said to employers.
Congoing, work-based vocational assessment Initial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from vork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with each new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration for reasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratin itial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment obcidist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Individualized job search Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Indoversely a session of the program of the program of the employment	o Employment specialists discuss disclosure on more than one occasion (e.g., if consumers have
A vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from vork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with each new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration for reasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratir initial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment obecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	not found employment after two months or if consumers reports difficulties on the job).
rork experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration freasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratir initial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment pecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	3. Ongoing, work-based vocational assessment	Rating references, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration for reasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratin initial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment pecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Individualized profile form and new job/educational experiences. Ratin	Initial vocational profile/assessment occurs over 2-3 sessions and is updated with information from	4
ach new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration for reasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Ratin itial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Individualized job search Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Ratin the consumer of the employer contact of the consumer of the employment o	work experiences in competitive jobs. A vocational profile form that includes information about
f reasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job Initial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment opecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Ratir	preferences, experiences, skills, current adjustment, strengths, personal contacts, etc., is updated with inical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers. Rapid search for competitive job nitial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment opecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search mployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	each new job experience. Aims at problem solving using environmental assessments and consideration
Ratir Rapid search for competitive job itial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment opecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational of seessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational of seessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Ratir	of reasonable accommodations. Sources of information include the consumer, MH treatment team, itial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment opecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. I Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	clinical records, and with the consumer's permission, from family members and previous employers.
cecialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry. Individualized job search Imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. I Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	4. Rapid search for competitive job	Rating
Individualized job search Imployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational essessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. I Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	Initial employment assessment and face-to-face employer contact by the consumer or the employment	5 mployment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). In individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational seessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. I Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	specialist about a competitive job occurs within 30 days after program entry.
onsumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available). n individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational ssessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	5. Individualized job search	Rating
n individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational ssessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	Employment specialists make employer contacts aimed at making a good job match based on	5 ssessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences. Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	consumers' preferences and needs rather than the job market (i.e. those jobs that are readily available).
. Job development- frequent employer contact Ratir	An individualized job search plan is developed and updated with information from the vocational ·	assessment/profile form and new job/educational experiences.
ach employment specialist makes at least six (6) face-to-face employer contacts per week on behalf of 5	6. Job development- frequent employer contact	Rating
1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	Each employment specialist makes at least six (6) face-to-face employer contacts per week on behalf of	5

consumers looking for work. An employer contact is counted even when an employment specialist meets with the same employer more than one time in a week, and when the consumer is present or not. Consumer-specific and generic contacts are included. Employment specialists use a weekly tracking form to document employer contacts.
	Pating
	Rating
Employment specialists build relationships with employers through multiple visits in person that are	5 planned to learn the needs of the employer, convey what the SE program offers to the employer, describe consumer strengths that are a good match for the employer.	Datina
	Rating
Employment specialists assist consumers in obtaining different types of jobs.	2
· · ·	Rating
Employment specialists assist consumers in obtaining jobs with different employers.	1
	Rating
Employment specialists provide competitive job options that have permanent status rather than	5 temporary or time-limited status (e.g. transitional employment slots). Competitive jobs pay at least minimum wage, are jobs that anyone can apply for, and are not set aside for people with disabilities.
11. Individualized follow along supports	Rating
Consumers receive different types of support for working a job that are based on the job, consumer	5 preferences, work history, needs, etc. Supports are provided by a variety of people, including treatment team members (e.g. medication changes, social skills training, encouragement), family, friends, co-workers (i.e. natural supports) and employment specialists. Employment specialist also provides employer supports (e.g. educational information, job accommodations) at consumer's request.
Employment specialist offers help with career development (i.e. assistance with education, a more desirable job, or more preferred job duties).
12. Time unlimited follow along supports	Rating
Employment specialists have face-to-face contact within one (1) week before starting a job, within three	4
(3) days after starting a job, weekly for the first month and at least monthly for a year or more on average, after working steadily and desired by consumers. Consumers are transitioned to step down job supports from a mental health treatment team member following steady employment. Employment specialists contact consumers within three (3) days of learning about the job loss.
	Rating
Employment services such as engagement, job finding and follow-along supports are provided in natural	5 community settings by all employment specialists.
	Rating
Service termination is not based on missed appointments or fixed time limits.	5
 Systematic documentation of outreach attempts.
 Engagement and outreach attempts are made by integrated team members.
 Multiple home/community visits.
 Coordinated visits by employment specialist with integrated team members.
 Connect with family, when applicable.
 Once it is clear that the consumer no longer wants to work or continue SF services, the team
 Once it is clear that the consumer no longer wants to work or continue SE services, the team stops outreach. 	