TRAINING ANNOUNCEMENT

Assessing and Managing Suicide Risk: Core Competencies for Providers of Mental Health Services

The Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities, Suicide Prevention is offering this training program to acquaint public, private, and community mental health providers with the competencies needed to assess and manage individuals who are at heightened suicide risk. It provides an overview of what is needed to provide competent assessment and management in provider settings.

Intended Audience: This training is intended for DBHDD provider clinical leadership (e.g. Medical Directors, Clinical Directors and/or Quality Assurance Managers) and other licensed providers of private mental health services.

This training is facilitated by Dr. Doreen Marshall. Dr. Marshall is a licensed psychologist and professional counselor in Georgia. She is currently Associate Dean and Chair/Associate Professor in the Counseling Department at Argosy University, Atlanta.
